ARTICLE REVIEW ANALYSIS FORM  Name _____________________

Name of Article: ______________________________________________

1. What is the purpose of this paper (Research Question)?

2. What is the basis for this research question? The nature and origin of the question should be described.

3. Why is this research question important? Is this research important in the context of your profession?

4. What methods were used?

5. Does the study method make sense? Would you have done anything differently?

6. Were the correct subjects selected for the study?

7. Was the research question answered?

8. Does the answer make sense?

9. What is next? Did the researcher identify directions for further research?

10. So what? Will the findings make any difference in your profession or in the researcher's field?